

PHRASE-BASED TEXT SEARCHING

Abstract

5 The computer-implemented process includes establishing a database containing data corresponding to a probability that words occur together in text, receiving a phrase comprised of the words, retrieving the data for the words from the database in response to receiving the phrase, and 10 determining, based on the data, whether to perform a text search for the phrase as a whole or for the words individually.

15 20215005.doc

09840851-042401
F042401